

BRUMBY

full aniline

Elegance is Italian leather. Brumby leather is one of our finest pull up, natural leathers. Deep rich colours and beautifully soft textures. Being on South American raw material, there will be a hump hole present along with brand marks due to the breed of bovine. We have crafted this unique leather to capture these scars, marks and brands to showcase its stunning beauty. Being tanned in Italy, we conform to the European standards of tanning and therefore, producing an environmentally sustained article. Brumby intentionally looks aged and worn. This is a characteristic of this leather, not a flaw. relax into the sumptuous warmth of this cosy leather.
